A Frenchman in Trouble. A few avenings since, as the down train on the Little Miami Railroad ran into Morrow, on the usual announcement of "twenty minuter for indigeration, a little Frenchman bounced out, leaving a wife and two or three child-ren who declined refreshments, and proceeded to receive thirty cents worth of head-ache and seart-burn. Having accomplished this, he paid his three dimes at the door, lit a fine cigar id again sought the cars. But in the meanwhile, the train from Cincinnati under care of our friend Hasen, had run in between the Sandusky train and the enting house, and on the platform of one of these our friend, the ieur, under the impression that all was right, took his stand and calmly sent puff after ouff of curling smoke into the frosty night.-In a second, the shrill whistle startle the lazy This tract has about 40 acres improved. \ 138 enters, rang a farewell note and rattled off, one with the Frenchman's family bound for the Queen City, and the other with the father of young France looking forward to Lake Erie. The Frenchman continued to smoke until Hazen accosted him with a request to show his ticket. The Frenchman cooly produced his card. "This is not right," said the con-

"Ze wrong box. Oh! vat you mean? "I mean that you are on your way to oringfield instead of Cincinnati—that's all." The Frenchman looked blank for a second, but an idea entered his brain, and he bright

"Ah! yes, I see, joke-ver good, Hu! ha! joke and get fat. You ver fat, ha! ha!"
This allusion somewhat anoyed Hazen, and he left the benighted Monsieur to discover his own error. In a few minutes, having finished his eigar, he set out in search of his better A hasty rush through the cars soon satisfied the poor fellow that the "joke" was one that he could not now very well laugh at, He ran to Mr. Hagen:

"Ah, Mr. Conductor, stop ze railroad-stop ze railroad-I am von ruined man-I do not vant to go Zunduskee-I go vis my leetle familee to Cincinnati."

"Too late-I can't help it now."
"Vat shall I do? I vill jum out!" Three or four passengers here interpos and beld the suffering little gentleman in their arms, while he continued his dismal lamentais, mixed up with bard swearing.

"Ah my poor leetle familee-my lettle nt-ze tronk-ze ban ohevy did I take ze suppar vis de sassage in ze pie. I vill, jump out!"

One of the passenger here suggested that at Xenia he could telegraph to Cincinnati and learn the whereabouts of his afflicted family. This somewhat quieted our merciful friend .-When the cars stopped at the little flourishing post town, Frenchy was landed. He rushed to the telegraph office, and directed a message to the clerk of the station here, who kindly ran through the hotels and found the forsaken family under the guardianship of our friend Hendrickson, the popular host of the Wavely House. The next train brought down the his "leetle familee." | Cin. Gazette.

MARRIAGE:

WHY SO OFTEN UNHAPPY. THE CAUSES AND THE REMEDY!

Many and many a wife endures years of bodily suffering and of mental angulah, presurate and help-sea, embittering her life, that of her husband, and nazarding the future welfare of her children arising from causes which, if known, would have spared the suffering, the auguish to the wife, and to the has-band embarrassments and pecuniary difficulties hav-ing their origin in the mind being weighed down and harassed in consequence of the sickness of the companion of his bosom. How important that the causes should be known to every wife, to every husband, that the dreadfal and harrowing consequences to the health and hap-piness of both may be avoided! Life is too short and health too precious to admit any portion of the one to be spent without the full enjoyment of the other. The timely possession of a little work entitled as follows has been the means of saving the health and Extract of a Letter from a Gentleman in Doylon, O.

"Daylon, May 1, 1847.

"Dit. A. M. Maunicau—My Dear Sir," The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion, is which I enclosed one dollar to your address, came safely to hand. I would not have troubled you with these few lines, but that I am impolled by a sense of gratitude, for myself and wife, to give utterance to our sincers and beartfelt emotions.

"My wife has been perceptibly sinking for some three years or more, in consequence of her great anguish and suffering some menta before and during confinement; every successive one more and more debilitated and prostrated her, putting her life in imminent danger, and which was on the last occasion, despired of. I supposed that this state of things was inevitable, and resigned myself to meet the worst.
At this time how about two months I heard your book highly spoken of, as containing some matters reaching my case. On its receipt and porasel, I can not express to you the cellef it afforded my distressed mind said the joy its pages impured to my wife, on learning that the grost discovery of M. M. Desomenus provided a remedy. It opened a prospect to me which I little conceived was possible. No pocuniary consideration can ever repsy the obligations I am under to you for having been the means of imparting to us the matters contained in 'The Married Woman's Private Medical Companion.' But for, this, ere unother year would have passed over my head, in all human probability my wire would have

"My Dear Sir.: I know you will have the kindness to bear with me in encreaching upon your time, while I acknowledge (in behalf of myself and wife) the oblications we feel corselves under to you in having made known certain matters, contained in your most invaluable. Married Woman's Private Medical Companion." It has been worth its weight in gold to me. If I express myself rather warmly, you will see that I can not do so too warmly, which I inform you of the extent to which I have, through it, been benefited. I will state my situation when I obtained your brok through the merest curiosity I look upon it as one of the most fortunate events of my life. I had been married some ten yours, and was the father of seven children. I was long struggling uncessingly, to the end that I might gain a moderate competency, but the results of my utmest exertions at the end left me about where I was at the beginning of each year; and that only, with the most sinted economy, sufficient with hereby the necessaries of life. Finally, this constant effort was beginning to have its effect upon my health: I fait less espable to entire its continuance, while I felt the necessity of perseverance.

"This constant, necessing struggle on my part was imperative, in consequence of the prescripted condition of my wife (with occasional intermission) for six years, much of the time confined to her bed, and of course incapable of taking the charge and management of household affairs. Her condition arose from causes of which I was ignorant. Oh! what would have given had I the six years to live over acable. Competence and Health.

What would my wife have given to have been spared the long days and still longer nights prostrate on a bed of sickness!—all of which would have been RVOIDED, had I then seen a copy of 'THE MARRIED WOMAN'S PRIVATE MEDICAL COMPANIOS." "PHILADELPHIA, NOV. 29, 1847.
"DR. A. M. Maurickau: Had I known of the important matters treated of in: The Marcied Woman's Private Medical Companion some years ago, how much misery I might have escaped? I have suffered years from causes which you point out in your book, without knowing what to do. I obtained a copy, and found my case treated of. I trust every femine will avail herself of the information contained in its pages." Letters are daily received of this character, unnecessary to present.

To shose yet unmarried, but contemplating marriage, or perhaps hesitating as to the propriety of incurring the responsibilities attendant upon it, the importance of being possessed of the revelations conained in these pages, so intimately involving their tained in these pages, so intimately involving their future happiness, can not be appreciated.

It is, of course, impracticable to convey more fully the various subjects treated of, as they are of a nature strictly intended for the unarried or those contemplating marriage; neither is it necessary, since it is every one's duty to become possessed of knowledge whereby the sufferings to which a wife, a mother, or a sister, may be subject, can be obviated.
